THE EROS SANCTUARY MODULE 1

HEY YOU, WELCOME!

Move beyond the mind and into the skin. This isn't about understanding—it's about experiencing. Let these practices guide you from knowing to breathing them into your body. Into sensations that awaken your soul.

1. THE SOMATIC PAUSE PRACTICE

This is a daily ritual where you consciously interrupt a reaction or a moment of pressure. By physically stopping and breathing deeply, you send a direct signal to your nervous system: "I am safe. I am here."

INSTRUCTIONS:

- Choose three moments a day to weave in this pause.
- Stop whatever you are doing.
- Bring your attention to your breath and the sensations in your body.
- Observe your inner landscape without judgment.

2.JOURNALING

Journaling: Take some time to answer the following questions from your feelings, not your mind.

QUESTION 1:

What are my three biggest "Brakes" right now? (Think of stress, shame, to-do lists, or old patterns that block your pleasure).

QUESTION 2:

What does "safety" feel like in my physical body? (Where in your body do you experience calmness, warmth, or space?).

QUESTION 3:

Where did I feel a spark of joy today, no matter how small? (A ray of sunlight, a lovely scent, a soft touch of the wind).

3. YOUR FELT SENSE ANCHOR

Describe a neutral or pleasant spot in your body that you discovered during the meditation. This is your safe haven to return to whenever the "brakes" feel too strong.

MY ANCHOR IS LOCATED IN:

THIS FEELS LIKE: