THE EROS SANCTUARY MODULE 6

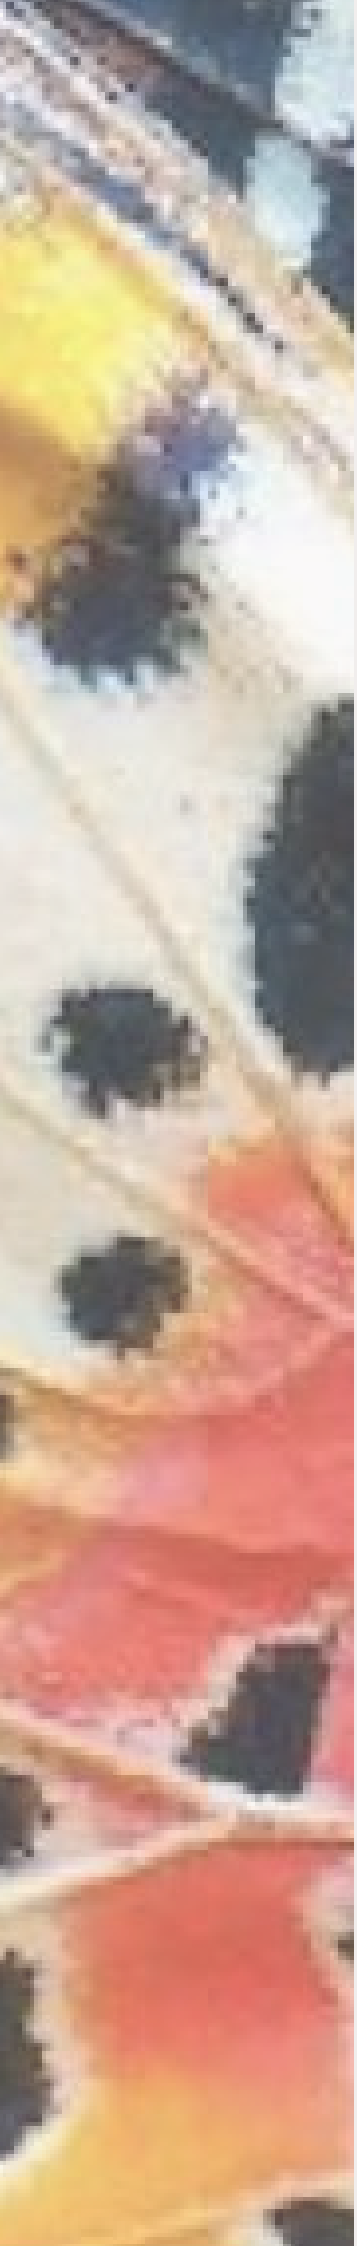

Dear sisters,

We're getting close to the final session of our journey together. It's a moment of closure, but even more so, a moment of a fresh start. To truly bring everything that has shifted, opened up, and taken root inside you out into the world, I'd love for you to do a special homework assignment: writing your very own Manifesto.

This manifesto is a love letter and a powerful commitment to your 'new self' and the reality you're living in from now on. These are the words where you claim who you are, how you move through life, and what you promise yourself (and life itself).

Guidelines for writing:
Really take some time for this. Create a cozy space for yourself, light a candle, get grounded in your body, and let the words flow from your heart, not just your head.

You can structure your manifesto using these prompts:

- Who am I today? (Write this in the present tense: I am the woman who..., I stand for...)
- What am I leaving behind for good? (What is no longer serving you?)
- How am I opening up to my new reality? (How does your daily life feel now? What are you allowing yourself to receive, to feel, and to desire?)
- My promise to myself: (What kind of safe harbor and support will you offer yourself from now on, especially when things get intense or scary?)

The invitation for next time:

Write your manifesto down on a beautiful piece of paper. During our final session next week, we'll create a space where you can read your Manifesto out loud to the group. So you feel the power of your own voice. Let yourself be heard, and step into the spotlight in your fullest truth. We will be there to listen to you, to hold space for you, and to celebrate you.

Exercise 2: The Receiving Tour

Now that you've written your manifesto and the inner blueprint of your new reality is down on paper, it's time to make this energy tangible in the physical world. Transformation doesn't just live on your meditation cushion or in the safe harbor of our circle; transformation lives out on the streets, in encounters with others, in the wild, vibrant rush of life. I invite you to go on a Receiving Tour. An experiment in pure magnetism.

The Preparation: Crowning & Activation

Before you step out the door, prepare your temple—your body. You aren't just walking out onto the street; you are stepping out as the sovereign Queen of your own life.

- Put on your crown: Stand in front of the mirror. Close your eyes, breathe deep into your pelvis, and feel the invisible, golden crown resting on your head. Feel your spine lengthen and your shoulders drop.
- Activate your life force energy: Do one of the activation practices we've learned. Bring your body into a state of turned-on aliveness. Let the energy buzz through your cells, until you feel that tingling sensation from your punani all the way to your fingertips, and your heart is wide open.

The Journey: The Outside World as Your Mirror

Step out of your house carrying this vibrant, royal energy. Take a walk through your neighborhood, go to a market, a park, or a café. You don't have to do anything, prove anything, or sell anything. All you have to do is be, and receive.

- Walk like a Queen: Feel the ground beneath your feet and the crown on your head. Move in slow motion, with grace and sensuality.
- Open your gates wide: Visualize your skin becoming porous, and your heart and pelvis opening wide to let life in. Meet the world's gaze. The trees, the sky, the people.
- Observe: Notice what happens when you step into the world with this pure, open, and turned-on energy. How do people react when they look at you? Do their eyes linger a bit longer? Do you get an unexpected smile, a compliment, or does the crowd subtly make way for you? Are you offered a free drink? Does someone hold the door open for you? Notice how the world responds to your magnetism.

Take it all in. Let it nourish you. This is your new reality: when you say a clear yes to life, life says a clear yes to you.

I can’t wait to hear all about what the Receiving Tour brought you during our final session! Have fun!
